

2009 – A Year of Divine Design

It has already been written, it has been established by God Himself. There is nothing surprising to Him. He has the answers for it was pre-written.

We are entering into a Sovereign time of divine design.

During this time, He is releasing His sovereignty, His Lordship, His dominion and the patterns and the understanding of those patterns. Everything He is requiring of us has already been written in the pattern of the Bible.

A divine design that we will now understand to see how He has laid it out, on the earth. He causes us as the Body to begin to recognize and follow and fit into his pre-designed pattern. As the church arises, it will enable individuals to sink themselves down into His pattern for their life on this earth in its present condition.

There will be a 7-year period, starting with 2009 and ending in 2016. It will be a time of the “Clearing house”. It will be a clearing of the house in the spiritual – in families, in the church – clearing the debris, the infiltration, even the tabernacle, the habitation of us that He dwells in. He is smoothing out the wrinkles and bringing us to a place where the spirit has freedom to dwell without the hidden places that the enemy has been able to stay, lurking in the dark. The light will be so bright there will be no corners in your heart for him to hide any longer. God is making his people aware of the glory of surrender.

God is releasing by His spirit a renewal of repentance as there is an acknowledgment of how much you have been forgiven.

A release of gratefulness from the heart knowing that you are not worthy to be touched by such a Holy God, yet He reached through the heavens and brought human hands to touch us with reconciliation once again.

Now we can see through the eyes of the spirit like never before. Even as if scales are being removed because of the times we are living in. Our eyes will be like the eagles, covered with the oil of the spirit, able to rise above the storm. Though the rain is fierce, His strength prevails and we rise with the wind of the spirit carrying us through the hard places until we see the glory of the Lord in the heavenly realm. It is in that place of His presence that the strength invades us once again and our eyes are open to His plans, His strategies, but most of all His love. In the glory realm, above the earthly realm, the eyes of understanding are open. The knowledge of His love invades our hearts, our lives and our thinking. We see clearly what must be done and we descend with a greater fervor and understanding of how it must be carried out.

We are entering into the last days of the last days. It is the season of the church arising. They are going to have to have the revelation of who they are called to be. It's the final season of grace.

Can you hear the trumpets blowing? The trumpets – the prophets – are blowing and His breath is being released. In one breath, one blast of His nostril they're changed so that they can absorb and begin to think as He thinks. It's an impartation, a radical change, a transformation out of the darkness into His light – redemption reality.

Now is the time for the church to arise in the final hours before the trumpet blows and we are taken out of this present world. We must reach those that are reachable while it is yet day. Souls are being weighed in the balance. We must walk closer to Him and not just enjoy His outpouring, but be an outpouring.

Be aware of the necessity of understanding the last days of the last days. It will help you to stay focused on that which has eternal value.

You are secured by Me. I have changed your zip code.

December 31, 2008

Now is the time that I'm going to begin to execute some things, to carry out fully, to put completely into effect, to do that which is necessary and required because of the decree that I've already made. I'm going to establish and execute the things that you have been waiting on. I am putting death to death. I am coming against the spirit of death that has tried to rise and bring itself back into your midst; I am executing it. I don't want you to look backwards, I want you to look forward. Even tonight, the axe is coming down and causing a dividing to happen so that your past will truly be your past and your future will be wide open for Me. I'm opening up your hearts to understand that the things that have been holding you back are now a thing that will no longer have any control over you. Open up your eyes of faith and see that that which I have executed is a final execution. The death blow has happened to the death blow.

And now I am blowing a new wind of My Spirit, a new breath, a new life into you. There will be a life force that will come into your spirit as you open up yourself to the newness that I have for each one of you individually and corporately. The things that have been so clouded now will begin to come into vision and into sight because I am infiltrating into those areas. And you have said, 'Oh, but it has been so dark, and so hard, and so long', but don't you understand that it is the exact place that I have stretched you and brought you and causing you to be totally dependent upon Me? For in the past, you have had a mixture of depending on your strengths and then depending on Mine. But for what I am requiring of you now, and because of the blessing that is coming, I had to make sure that you were ready. I had to ready you by taking you into the place where there would be no satisfaction of you being in control - where you would be out of control completely so you could be completely controlled by Me and by My spirit. For I have a plan predestined for you. And now I have moved into your life in a way where you feel out of control, but it is by sovereign design because through the sovereign design. This is the time for you to abandon yourself completely and allow Me to work through you and to order your steps and to open up your mouth and you will see that those things that were impossible are now possible because it's Me flowing through you, making it possible.

I have called my prophets into alignment once again for they have to blow the trumpets and cause those things and call them forth. Even [don't listen to] the things that have come from the world's system, and the loss in the economy, and the things that are declaring to you 'it's lost, you'll never recover, it's over, you're going to lose everything, you are a loser'. I am calling the prophets forth, and I am opening their mouth and they must declare and decree again that this is a time of abundance. I am turning things around and causing the shift to occur. Even the impossible is possible. They will have to know and see and admit that surely their God is real, for it is impossible in any other way for them to be on top when everyone else is underneath. That is what I've told you I would do. I'm watching over My word still. I will make sure it comes to pass for those who will trust Me and take Me at My word and declare and decree and quit agreeing with the enemy.

There's a dividing tongue. One moment you're speaking this way and the other moment you're speaking that way. Tonight, come into agreement with Me, once and for all, and I will move on your behalf. But you must not agree with Me and then agree with the enemy, and then agree with Me and then agree with the enemy, and then agree with Me and then agree with the enemy for it upsets that which I have already sent forth. About the time the blessing is about ready to be delivered to your doorstep, you shut the door once again and send it back. So trust Me and believe Me once again and keep your eyes focused on what I have promised you. I am renewing the life in the promises. You've given up your hope of the promises I've given you in the past. You said 'what is the use and why should I press through, even if it's the last days of the last days? I might as well just eek by until His return'. But that is not your mandate. That is not even who you are. You'll never be fulfilled that way because I've built you into the people that you are on purpose. And the investment that I've made from heaven to earth is still inside of you.

You must arise into your proper position and you must declare and you must decree and you must stay focused. For if it is one day, or if it is a million days, what is that to you? Isn't that what I said to Peter on that day when he said, 'well what about this man?' He was talking about John and I answered him in the same way. He had to realize that he thought I was saying to him that he would never see death, but that is not what I was saying. I was saying it is none of your concern, [regarding] the timing. What is of your concern is whether you obey Me and enjoy the blessing of obedience or not. For where the blessing is cut off is where the disobedience has begun. And where the blessing will flow again is in total surrender. It's the glory of surrender that I'm talking about. There is not just surrender because you have to, not just surrender because it's the right thing to do, not just surrender because there is no other alternative. But there's a glory of surrender in acknowledging Me as your Lord. Not just as your Savior, but your choice of the day, your choice of the moment, your choice for your life. It's the glory realm that you will get to as you totally abandon yourself to Me. You will go after Me fervently once again and again and again and again until I am the priority of every moment of your life. For You see, I won't be satisfied with anything less than 100% of you, of your heart, of your mind, of your spirit, of your soul. I bought it all, 100%. I gave 100%. And I want 100%. But it is in the 100% that you get the blessing, that you enjoy Me, that you get the fullness back that you've been lacking. The enemy has come and he has tried to cut things off. It's as if he has come with a huge pair of scissors to the earth and he has attacked My body and tried to cause separation and harm and has even taken his scissors to your clothes, to your bank account, to your relationships, and has tried to divide and separate and conquer you by pushing you off away and causing a ripping to occur and causing a separation. But My anointing is being released to bring you back into wholeness, bring you back into the fullness of my glory.

As you embrace this new move, as you press past the things that are totally uncomfortable - I didn't promise you that you'd be comfortable - I just promised you that you would be successful. I just promised you that you would be blessed. I never said that you would love every minute of this. I said I would love you through every minute of this. My love is enough. The weightiness of the cost of My love is enough to bring you through. It's enough to bring you to victory. Keep your eyes focused on Me. Your eyes must look into My eyes daily. You must come before Me and look at Me and I will look back at you. You know Me. You're able to come into My throne room of grace and talk to Me. I have made it available for you. Look at My eyes and see My acceptance of You, My love for you, and My directives for you. When you have relationship, many words are spoken by a glancing of the eyes. No words need to be said. For it is understood what has to be done in the next moment, in the next time frame because of intimacy. That is what I am looking for - sons and daughters that don't need to hear My booming voice, although I'll boom when you need Me to. But I'm looking for sons and daughters who will come and stare into My eyes of love and understand what I am conveying because of the intimacy that we've had in that private time where it's only you and Me. Where it's not you and Me and a whole bunch of other things, but just you longing for more of Me, and Me being able to love you through to the other side. I've never given up on you, so don't give up on Me.

So many have accused Me of withholding, for they don't understand why things didn't turn out the way that they predetermined it should. They have said I have been a hard taskmaster. They have judged Me unjustly. But you see, I am the Righteous Judge. I am the Just Judge. I judge the earth. I judge the people. I judged you as righteous with my Son's blood. I judged you as victorious. I've given you talent, I've given you time, I've given you finances. What will you put yourself to? Which part will you withhold from Me, and which part will you give Me 100%? Abandon yourself once again. Trust Me in My love. Trust Me again. I will move into your circumstances and make the adjustments necessary to bring about the blessing and the abundance. Trust Me again. Trust Me again to heal your broken heart. Trust Me again to order your steps and bring you to the divine connections that will be necessary for your divine destinations. For I have not changed My promises - you have forgotten them. You have abandoned them, I haven't abandoned you. So come back. Renew. Refresh. Restore. And realize that which I have spoken, I have already written in the blood. I'm watching over My Word, not just my written Word, but the words that I have spoken to you personally, for I am your personal God.

I am pouring out a spirit now that will cause many to come into salvation. And many of you have lacked the joy of serving Me because you're not reproducing. And you've tried and tried and tried and it has seemingly been fruitless. But I want you to know that it was not fruitless, for you have been plowing the ground and planting the seed. And it is timing that is involved in the harvest. But you are moving now into the time of harvest. And now you will begin to see the fruit of your labor. And so right before the time is being released for them to come, Satan would like to take away your hope, he would like to take away your dreams, he would like to take away your passion for the lost. But don't allow him. Because I love them as I love you. If you will continue to love, if you will continue to ask Me for the nations, certainly I will present them to you. You have said, 'But Lord, I don't know how it's going to happen'. That is part of the beauty of knowing Me. You don't have to know how, you just have to know Me, and I know how. I know how to open doors that no man can open. I know how to shut doors that no man can shut. I know how to connect you with the right connections. So trust Me once again. Because now the collapsing time frames have begun. And you will see that things will start happening on a more accelerated scale. You will say 'oh, it's time to slow down', and I'll say it's time to speed up, because I know how to get things accomplished and more efficiently.

I've told you that the strategies would come, and there's frustration because you don't see it. But the truth is always going to be the truth in that I've brought you together to help one another. As the answers have come as you have united, more clarity will come as you come together in the spirit and in prayer. Because one will have one piece and one will have the other. Now we see through a glass darkly. But when you see Me face to face, you'll suddenly have an understanding and it doesn't have to be when you come to heaven. Don't you know you can transcend into the heavenly realm at any time with Me? You've been lied to, you've misunderstood that it won't be on the day that I return, it's the day that you open up your eyes to see Me here and now. Then suddenly clarity will come and it will come through many instead of through one. For I'm breaking down mindsets and I'm changing around and reorganizing the things on the earth that are necessary to come into alignment for the end times.

I will secure America for I am not done yet. There is still time. And I will still have My way. For I still have a people who are called by My name. And as long as you are the withstanding force, then I will move on your behalf. So trust Me with that also. And do not give up on your beloved land. Because I have not. Didn't I tell you that everywhere your feet trod, I've given to you? What soil are you standing on? Then will I give it to you again? For if you're standing on it, then it is a blessed place. And if you're declaring and decreeing over it, then it will align itself. So arise into your position of authority and begin to speak blessings once again instead of cursing this land. Do not curse those that are in authority for I've told you in My word that that is not My desire. You will curse yourself with a curse if you curse the land that you live in. So bless it once again. You do not have to understand how the blessing will come. But part of the blessing will come because of your mouth agreeing with Me. You say it in faith, and I will move on your behalf. If you curse, you are taking My hands off. So bless it once again. Don't let your confidence, however, be in those who walk in the White House, or those who walk in the political realms. But put your confidence and your trust in Me, because I transcend those that are in authority. But I also place people in authority. I have placed people, individual people, into places of influence and places of authority that will shift and change things even when you are unaware of it.

The light that comes from you, the light that comes from you will cast the light that is necessary to cast the shadow that will bring the understanding. You don't have to know everything. You just have to know Me. Even as you are absorbed in My light and in My glory and become the glory carriers, and those that have the ark of My covenant, you will come into an arena and suddenly there will be an understanding and there will be an enlightenment to those who need to be enlightened with the answers for the world's systems, for the things that need to shift and change because you have been obedient to Me. You don't have to know it, you just have to be with Me, and the light will shine on them and they will understand.

So arise again into a place of victory, even in your mind, even in your heart, tonight. Don't buy into the darkness that Satan is trying to cast.

But buy into the truth that you are the light of the world.

That I have set you in this place right here and right now on purpose.

That your purposes will still be found and felt and known and proclaimed and declared and bring change all around you. You have the ability. I've invested it in you.

I'm infiltrating in the nations. The terrorists think that they will infiltrate and that they will cause the end result. But they do not have the ability to cause the end result. My investment has been made inside of people. And so I will send those that are carriers of truth. And the truth will be released. And even as they go, they will release truth, and it won't even just be truth that will be released to those that have the hearing of ears in the natural, but the ones who are consumed by Me, as they go into the nations, will infiltrate an arena, an area, a whole region, just by their mere presence of truth. And I will begin to speak to those people individually, because you have so limited Me in your thinking that it has to be by a one-on-one encounter. It doesn't have to be human to human. It has to be spirit to spirit. But I need carriers of My glory to go in and leave the deposit and invade the arena and take the region, which is why I have taught you to be a territorial church.

For when you entered into the arena, didn't you understand that Davie was a very dark place? And there was much that was done there that was evil and wicked, and yet because you understood authority, because you understood doing and being what I've called you to be, and that I had placed you there, you released your faith to believe that you were making a difference. And you began to invade the territory with prayer and with My presence and it shifted and it changed and now My glory is seen and known and My name is able to be lifted high. And so it shall be in Cooper City, and so it shall be in South Florida, and so it shall be in the world if only you will stand in your place and position of authority and begin again to see yourself as those who have authority, who are able to take territories, who are able to invade the darkness and pull down the strongholds and identify who they are and eradicate their presence and bring forth My glory on the earth. I will do it as you declare it.

Arise, arise, arise again. Get past looking at the small things when there is so much more. [See] the big picture! See it on the floor and then I will open the door. See it in the spirit realm. [See] the effectiveness of obedience, the effectiveness of declaring and decreeing, the effectiveness of being a warrior, the effectiveness of all of the ingredients that I've placed inside of you coming to light and coming to life again. Release it. I am breathing restoration back inside of you. The enemy has retaliated against those that have tried to arise and he has knocked many of you down. But I am breathing restoration. I am breathing restoration. And I will cause that spirit of loss and that spirit of lack to be replaced by the spirit of abundance, and the spirit of wisdom, and the spirit of ability once again. Trust Me. Come higher.

As you come to Me in humility, as you understand and acknowledge Me for who I am, I will work on your behalf. And I will turn things around. The landslides are occurring. It's already happening. The land is being shifted. The money is being shifted. It's going out of the hands of the wicked into the hands of the righteous. See yourself with it. And see the desires of My heart being answered by what you have in your hands. I will release it to you, if I can trust you with it. Be good stewards. Allow My presence to be stewarded by your heart, stewarded by your actions. Allow Me to change you from the inside out.

There's going to be a shift in India. Satan came with a tsunami. He destroyed so many lives. But now I'm releasing a tsunami of a different kind. You will begin to see the revival fires there. I am reviving you so I can bring revival. But it will be different than it's ever been before. It's breathing life into dead bodies, in the spirit and in the natural. I'm reviving faith again, I'm reviving trust again. I'm bringing revival to you. I'm reviving your hope, I'm reviving your dreams, I'm reviving the promises, I'm reviving your bodies to be able to obey Me. The weariness I'm infiltrating. I'm bringing you the refreshing that is necessary. So allow My winds to blow in you and through you. You will arise like the eagle. Soar on the wings of the wind. Come alive in Me again.

Prayer is always the answer and so I have begun again through the revival of prayer. The intercession that is necessary, even through the round tables, and the things that I've dropped inside of your heart, prayer will always be the answer. It will be the beginning and the end. So embrace it and run to it instead of running from it. The unity will come as you pray together. You know that.

Prayer: Father, we thank you. There's so much to take in and digest. I know You're not even done. Thank you for releasing discernment in 2009 like never before, [so] that we will know the spirits that we're up against and be able to take our authority and shift things because of it. Thank you for the vision, for giving us vision individually and corporately. I release personal vision right now, dreams come back to life in Jesus' name. Promises, arise again. See yourself standing in the places that you gave up on. See your positions again, return, see yourself successful in every area and arena of life. Take your mountain. Take it back now. Take it back. We infiltrate the media, the religion, government, education, business, family, arts & entertainment. We take them back in Jesus' name now. We are Your answer for the world and those arenas. We will no longer be on the outside, but we're going after it and putting Your flag down. I speak unity in all of those arenas. Wherever you have placed us, we take your light, life and glory and we shift things right there. Thank you for the victory stories and the testimonies.
