

Joy, Greater Glory, No More Containment

January 1, 2011

I hear great joy. An abundance of joy and happiness being spilled back into your life. It's all coming back one hundred fold, it's coming back. The joy, the happiness, the laughter again, it's coming back. It's going to bubble up from you and you're going to be able to give that out to so many people. You're going to affect so many people that you thought you couldn't touch, that you thought you couldn't have an impact on people's lives, but yes you do. He has made you for such a time as this, that you are going to make a difference, but you have to choose it. You have to walk forward. The past is past and it's gone, so push forward because He's made you. He has told you things and He's confirmed so many things for you this year, but it's that time that you have to make to walk out on that ledge. Your joy is going to make you go do it and make everything so much easier. And as you fully accept who you are, and as you fully accept who you are in Him and how He's made you, that road is going to be opened and it's going to be so much clearer and you're going to see such a difference financially, in your household, even your job is going to be different.

The stretching, and the pulling, and the breaking, and the trembling that has been going on inside of you, I am rebuilding My temple. I am rebuilding My temple for a greater day of a greater glory that is inside of you. I am rebuilding a temple that is being enlarged because of the glory that you are allowing Me to hold inside of you. Because of your surrender and your continued surrender, and your continued desire to surrender, and your continued desire to go to the next level and your continued desire to give up the things that I have called you to give up and your continued desire to break down the altars of old, and your continued desire to break down the temples that you have previously built, I am rebuilding a temple that has not been seen before. I am rebuilding a temple upon you that is inside of you, that will be a greater day of a greater glory. It is shaking, it is tearing, it may be painful a little bit, it may hurt a little bit, it may shake you up a little bit, and you may not know what is going on or why, but I am rebuilding inside of you. There is construction on the inside of you. It is a day that the foundation is rebuilt. The walls are rebuilt; they are expanded to a greater expansion. Their height is higher than you thought, the glory of it, the beauty of it, the magnificence of it, it is greater than you ever asked Me for.

You will not even understand, you will not know, and it is not because of anything you've done, but it is because of My mercy and My grace, because it is abundance upon you. I have more mercy, I have more grace, I have more, I have enough, I have more for you, I have more for you, and it is not done, it has not ended. I have more, I have so much more, I have so much more. You have just begun to see, you have just begun to know. You are going to be a glory carrier, because I'm going to show everyone what I can do. I can rebuild ruins. I can raise the dead. I can heal the hurt. I can raise those up who have fallen. It does not matter how dirty it looks, I can clean pure as snow. You will be able to carry My glory. I will give you the grace, I will give you the ability, and I will give you the words to speak. I will give you the guidance. Just continue to seek Me in truth, continue to seek My heart, continue to love like I love, continue to open your heart even deeper, and I will continue to dig deeper, I will continue to dig, and I will plant My roots so deep inside of you, you will never have to fear again. You will never have to worry again and you will not be shaken again, because My roots go deeper than you could ever dig, My roots go deeper than you could ever find the bottom of.

He's brought you to this place to bring more freedom to you. You won't even recognize yourself because you'll be so free to be who you are. There has been a containment around you, there have been those strong strongholds and those walls that have held you in, but this is a place of freedom for you. This is a time in space that God has pre-ordained that He is bringing to you — the freedom to express yourself before Him. You have a kingly anointing. A kingly anointing like David. You're going to dance before the King and you're going to be kingly yourself. I'm putting the robes around your shoulder. I am putting a crown upon your head. I'm going to let you lead, I'm going to let you command, I'm going to let you win, I'm going to let you be a part of the end-time army. You will be one that will have a position in that kingdom. It will take time, and it will take structure, and it will take character building. And there will be those times out in the field where you'll have to watch over the sheep, there will be times when you'll have to watch over the soldiers, there will be times when you'll have to watch over those that are coming in to try to steal, and try to rob, and try to cause harm. I will give you eyes like an eagle that's flying through the sky, able to see from above and able to zero in on the things going around. And in that place, in that place, you will see that I will give you the instructions and I will give you the power and the strength to overcome it. This is a new time, this is a new season, it's brand new for you. It's brand new for you.

You feel like sometimes you say, "God, I believe You, I want to take You at Your word, but I just don't know where to start." If you open your mouth He'll fill it. You'll start walking and He'll direct you. Start with what you know and keep the faith. He's going to give you wisdom. Trust Him, take Him at His word, step out, speak out, and move out and He's going to take you the rest of the way.
