

It's time to rumble!

Prophetic Word for 2012

RUMBLE: a noise and a crowd; wealth and abundance;
company; multitude and to multiply;
it's noise, it's ridges, it's store and tumult

True adoration does not come from your lips, but it comes from your heart. This is the beginning of a new era. There are doors that are shutting and doors that are opening. It is the end of some things and the beginning of others. Just as it was in the day of the book of Acts when My Holy Spirit fell, it came and it awakened the spirit that was within them. They came to a new level of understanding of Who I was and how I operated. And they began to be bolder than they had ever been. They began to change circumstances as they tapped into a fire that they had never felt before. But you see, I have sent that fire and it wasn't just for a day, it was a fire that consumes over and over and over and over again. It will consume those things that need to be consumed and it will stir those things that need to be stirred. And it will brighten those things that need to be lightened up and it will make a pathway for people to walk upon. And exactly how My Spirit fell and how My Spirit did it on that day, My Spirit is alive and falling with His fire even here and even now and even to you and even through you. It takes yielded vessels. It takes those who are willing to abandon themselves.

There are many who have said there is none like Me and they are correct. There is none like Me; which is why it makes it possible for there to be none like you. I've made you in My image and I've made you in My likeness. I've made you to be the exact individual that I want you to be. You see, there are predesigned destinations for you, predetermined things that I'd like for you to do, but not alone. You are not required to do them without Me, without My hand to lead you, without My voice to speak to you, without My power to flow through you. For you see when you yield to Me, and you agree with your predetermined destiny, then I can be all that I need to be to you so that you can be all that you can be. There's always a way and there's always a means, and I am the way and you are the means.

This is the time and this is the season that will be like no other. After the page turns in 2012, there will be a succession of things that will happen and they will know that it was marked for this time. That something has occurred amongst God's people, that will cause others to come into harmony with Me like never before. For all of the revivals of the past will pale in comparison to what I'm going to do in the earth. For what I have begun and what I am continuing and what is about to happen is: we are going to rumble, for there is a thunder that has begun in heaven. Even as you heard the musicians tonight, and even as the worship began to stir your heart and stir your spirit and get you responded by standing on your feet and enjoying Me, recognize that the rumble of heaven has begun and we will rumble church! And we will bring the voice that is necessary to call and make a difference to those who cannot hear because My voice has not been loud enough until now through My people. But now together you will make a new sound. For I am bringing a new sound from heaven among the worship leaders, and even those who worship Me will begin to understand that there is something new that is being added – a heavenly sound, a new way of worshiping. Not just worshiping, but worshiping in spirit and worshiping in truth. Worshiping with the depth of the knowledge of My word and worshiping with all that is within you as the Holy Spirit allows, for He knows who I Am. He knows how to regenerate you. He knows how to connect you. He knows how to bring you into the realm that you've never been before. And even as He pulls and knocks upon your door, you will walk through the film that Satan has made look like a wall. And you will come into the realm of heaven that you have never seen before. There you will begin to observe how big and how great and how powerful and how majestic I really am. But then you will begin to be absorbed by heaven's grace and heaven's mercy and heaven's love. It will cause you to go. It will cause you to understand that they are waiting for you to be the answer. And as you become the answer for them, I will be the answer for you. Because that is the way it works.

There is a shift that is occurring in what I am expecting of you. I have not put a lot of demands upon My church but that is shifting and that is changing. For you're coming into a time where there is a separation and a responsibility that you will have to rise to. You will have to understand that I have called you for a purpose. You will have to understand that those things that I have put inside of you will no longer have permission to stay dormant. For that which I have entrusted to your care, I will now put a demand on. There are way too many people that are waiting upon your gifts. Your gifts indeed will make room for you. I am not just talking about your spiritual gifts, although it will play a major role in what is going to happen. But I am also talking about the gifts of charity, of giving, of reaching. You will have to flow according to My spirit and you will have to flow according to My heart and you will have to see with eyes from the heavenly perspective. You will also have to operate in the faith that comes with expectancy. I will no longer be satisfied with those who call themselves by My name – “Christians” – who say one thing and act another way just because My grace is there. Grace will abide, and it is here tonight to change you from the inside out. But there is yielding that must occur again and again. Every day there’s a choice to be made, to pick up the cross and follow me.

I’ll put your arm in Mine. We’ll walk the road together. Don’t you know I’ve heard your cries? I’ve seen the times that you have had to make a decision. When you feel Me, it is easy, but when you’re in that place when there seems to be no presence to be found, I have seen you trust Me still and stay firm. That is when I wept, for I knew that you loved Me even more. And now you’ll see the result of those times that you pressed past the difficulty, when you pressed through the film of the enemy and you broke off his design to come into My design instead.

That’s My church. My church will stand when they feel like it and when they don’t. My church will be strong when they feel weak. My church will still proclaim the truth no matter what the cost. My church will move according to My will, not according to comfort. That’s My church. My church is not looking at the outward things, but looking at the inward. My church keeps their eyes focused upon Me and upon My ability, not their own. My church seeks My heart and cries out on the floor for ways to reach those that are hurting, that are the lost. That’s My church. That’s the church that I’m counting on. That’s the church that I’ve been waiting for. That’s the church that I have predesigned. That’s the church that I’m pouring My spirit out upon that is going to come forth in this very time.

A new era, designed for miracles, but the first one begins with you – instant obedience. Not after you’ve thought it out. Not after you’ve fought with Me about it, but hearing My voice and instantly obeying Me because you trust Me, because you’ve been with Me, because you know Me, because I’ve proven Myself over and over. And to those that are even brand new, brand new. They’ll be brand new in Me with the new ability to hear easily, not like times of the past. They will hear what they’ve never heard before, and be able to stick to My program, to stay in spiritual alignment with My divine design. Because now is the time. There’ll be work for you to do as you call them to your side. You’ll have to check for them. You’ll have to see how they’re doing. You’ll have to encourage them when they fall. Oh but they’re strong. They’ve been waiting on you. They’ve been waiting on your voice. They’ve been waiting for your encouragement. They’ve been waiting for you to care, to know them by name, to call them out of their shame, to speak words of blessing and break the curse, to be the people, to be My people, called by My name, who will do exploits for Me. It will go from generation to generation and there will be no more need to check to see what age they are. For age to age I am the same. I have entered into this realm to prove that it makes no difference to Me. I’m looking for hearts. I’m not looking for maturity, I’m looking for availability. I’m looking for those who will be absorbed in My presence to the place where it makes no natural sense and yet it will make perfect sense to those that are observing, for they’ll see the difference that I’ve made inside of you. It will cause them to hunger, and it will cause them to thirst, and it will cause them to seek after those things. “Why are you so different?” they will say. “It seems you have the real deal, could you share it with me?” So be prepared for they are there to express my love and grace. I’ve seen them, I’ve even put some in your pathway, now. I’m waiting to see if you’ll open your eyes and see them standing before you and tell them the truth of what you’ve experienced in Me.

“Ha-Ha” I say to the tactics of the enemy. He thought that he could destroy America by ruining and messing with the economy. But I am God and I am not through. I am not through with those who fill the borders of this country. I am not through with the destination that I've prepared for the United States. Take heart and trust Me again. I'm counting on you to pray because I told you to, to pray for those that are in authority and to pray for Israel. They are not suggestions, this is My will. That is how you will come into alignment with My will and that is how things will remain changed according to My will and according to My way. So trust Me and cry out. Cry out and speak spirit to spirit. Cry out and know that I am in your midst. Cry out and know that when you stand in your position of authority, I will stand with you. As you begin to rumble with the thunder of heaven, I will be with you. Oh this is not a time to be still. This is a time to be excited.

This is not a time to look at your past, except to use what you've learned from your mistakes. So you've made mistakes, alright. If I've forgiven them, forget them completely, but use them. Utilize them as stepping stones to walk into your future. Understand that they're just a way and a means for you to get to where I'm taking you. They cannot hold you back unless you allow the enemy to utilize them against you. For your past is over the moment you give it to Me. And it's a brand new day. 2012 is not the end of the world. It is the beginning of a new era.

There's a new generation that is rising that will not be denied. They're staying connected to the sound of My voice, and I will not lead them once in a while ... but continually. Every person, every place, even in your weakness you will find Me. There are things that have been assigned to this time from which succeeding years will be counted. A time when the things required of me by my spirit, will still be followed and my people will submit like never before to My decisions. Your position in Me will become more realized as you step into the place of My consuming love and there you will be able to rise above the standards of the world and the standards of "acceptable" church practice because your heart will melt at My feet. I will give you the ability to be impassioned enough to walk out the door and to meet others on the paths of righteousness that you have laid out for them to walk upon. They will be stunned at the evidence of your commitment. You will walk in perfect step with Me and you will choose to stay free from sin. It won't come from works or man's standards of perfection, but will occur because you are so aware of My heart beating within yours and you will be able to reach out with love that will give others a brand new start.

A change, a change again, a change in My worshipers. It's time to rise above the clouds. A time to let go until you are guided only by that which you cannot see, because you'll be guided by the confidence you have in Me for I am He that is in charge of your life. There's a new boldness that will come. I will empower you with compassion. This is the year of divine order and I am giving you orders to examine your life. Let Me have control. Let go and let My kingdom be revealed. Seekers will find, givers will receive, harvesters will reap. I'm no longer looking for hearers but I'm looking for fruit on the boughs of those who have stayed with Me when they felt close and when they felt that I was far away. This is where I expect you to come, the place where you're no longer living for yourself, and the place where you're no longer living in the now. Instead, you're pressing into the future. Understand the times. Understand the time for miracles is now. Understand the time for souls to be transformed is now. It's time to understand that there's an awakening in the realm of the spirit that is for now.

Some will not be able to understand, but just as Peter stood and began to proclaim truth, it brought revelation through inspiration and so it will begin again. It is not limited to any generation. It is expanding from heart to heart. It's your time to rise into divine authority. It's your time to shine the light of My love so that all can see that you are rooted and grounded and perfected in Me. There are times and there are seasons that I've called you to understand and now is a time and now is a season for you to take this land. I will give you that which you ask Me for. And as you saw My children stand, and you saw them declare the nations for their land, I move in accordance to those that have faith. And when they pray it out with faith there is action taking place from the heavenly realm down to earth.

Now trust Me as a child and ask Me for what you dare and see what I will do. For those who know I'm there, I'm waiting on you. But you see I've already predetermined your destination. You can run to the left, and you can run to the right, but I will gather you up and bring you back straight on the road of righteousness. Just yield to Me. Just give Me permission and I'll take you past where you've ever thought you could be.

Your economy has nothing to do with the world's system. What I can do for you will give Me praise, it will give Me glory, for I am faithful to My word. I'm watching over it. To those who have given up on the truth, resign yourselves from that attitude and assign yourselves back to the future ... where you will tap into My grace again and believe Me from the base once again. The truth of My word will stand throughout eternity. I have come to give you life, I have come to give it to you more abundantly. Who will believe the word of the Lord? That is who will prosper, that is who I will hand territories over to and funds to, to accomplish the things that I have on My heart.

Oh we're going to rumble. We will rumble against the enemy. When he hears the sound, he's familiar with it, for the sound came from days of old. The sound came on the mount. The sound came with My voice. The sound came when Moses came down from the mountain. The sound came when Elijah stood and destroyed the lies of the enemy. The sound came again upon My disciples and the sound is upon My disciples today. Will you rumble with Me? And will you prove that he is the defeated foe? Will you rise to the occasion and will you come into this place, of newness, of life and awareness? Will you give Me permission to take away that which I ask of you and impart that which I want to give you whole-heartedly? The choice will always be yours. But I choose you. I just want you to choose Me back.

There's more revelation to see. With revelation comes dignity. There's a place of rising into, positioning yourselves as kings and priests with real authority — not something that you do when you're showing off to others that you know Me. But it's a place where you meet with Me, receive your crown and then walk it out here. Then there's royalty that is displayed beyond the outward appearance. It doesn't matter what you have on. It matters who you're displaying. It all begins with My embrace and it will finish always with love. 2012, what will it be like? A lot of that depends on you. Oh, I have a predetermined destination for you. I even have a predetermined destination for 2012. I will have My way with the way it goes, but I can only have My way with you if you say yes. So surrender and this will be your best year yet.

More on 2012...from others at service – children and adults ☺

The poor will be rich in God and they will not feel like there's no point to life because there is. There's something to live for.

More people will get saved. More people will go to Jesus. He has them on the path. That's why they nailed Him on the cross and He gave everything for us. He did that for our sins. So this is how we'll thank Him, by saving souls.

More people are going to know God and worship Him; soon enough everybody else will worship Him. And they'll tell others. And then they'll worship as a big group. They'll have the best life they've had their whole life and tell other people and get bigger and bigger.

2012 is going to be one of the best years for Liberty. Liberty's going to make a huge difference in 2012 and everybody's going to come to know Jesus.

Put down our agenda and find His. Time to rumble!

A time of peace and there's a reason why there's so much fear and so many people frightened with what might happen in 2012. God is telling us peace is not something where you sit still and sit there and yes, it has to do with some sort of stillness, but it's going to be a time when God's people are really moving and completely proactive and that is where the peace is going to be found. The souls coming in will be the movement of God's people.

2012 is going to be a year that fear is finally defeated. All the "boogiemen", when things arise that would normally scare us; we're just going to laugh at them. A year of opportunity, things coming our way, He'll give us strategies. Opportunities for prosperity, but prosperity in order to build His kingdom, build the church, a community that can care for and protect the people who are out there who need us. He's going to set out a banquet for us. We just need to come to the table. We don't need to dress up, we don't need to pretend, put on airs. Just come as we are, crying out to Daddy-God. He'll take us and invite us to that feast. He'll fulfill every desire of our hearts in 2012.

A year of miracles in Liberty.

The year we'll cry aloud to hearing ears. I'm going to put you in places that you can witness, because I am endowing you with the word. Witnessing will be very easy because people are hurting. Just stay in place and be My voice crying out into the wilderness and you will see the harvest coming in. Don't give up on your loved ones, not this year. This is the year of regeneration. Kids and family members are going to be saved. Saved and lifted up, this year.

This year, 2012, is going to be the year of abundance. Abundance! We will have life and life more abundant because we are going to take authority. We are going to stand on the word and we will trust God and not be afraid.

The financial year of breakthrough and there will be people in this church who will become debt free this year.

The church is going from caterpillars to butterflies – flying into the Son of Righteousness.

All the promises God made for us are coming to past. Not at the end of the year but when the year turns. All of the promises.

Many Liberty's. The line was down the road where people were saying "where can I talk to Him, I want to get closer to Jesus? I want to know Him and hear His voice. Everyone's dancing and laughing and I want to be like that...what line do I get into?"

We have lampposts on the wall we've built. We're calling them in by our light. Our light is drawing them in.

Delight in Me this year. Stop worrying about all your needs. Just put Me first. Delight yourself in Me and I will take care of those things. Those things are not what are important. What is important is the souls. Those are the things of eternal consequence. I know about your pain, your bills, your body, I love you and I will and I am taking care of that. But take on My agenda. Take on My agenda and I will deal with yours. Even the things that are deep inside that You don't even know, I am taking care of that, but I want You to take on My agenda and use the peace I give you as the light the world needs. The world is hurting, confused, seeking for something, for an answer. I am the answer, but you need to be the light for those people. The peace I'm giving you as you surrender yourself to Me is what they're looking for. Be loud with that weapon called peace.

It's time for a better life with Jesus.

Get ready, there's a great revival coming. He's already equipped us with the power and with the word. It's time to put it into action. Not to sit back. It's not the condition it's the position where we're supposed to be in.

A new beginning and people are going to cry out to Him and be thirsty and hungry for Him.

The souls that we save will be in this church, all the chairs are full. When we look back, it's darkness because there are no more people, the whole world was right there with us and Jesus was saying, come in My kingdom.

More love. More people will please God.

Financial miracles. Debt free by miracles. God's saying it's in your heart and He's going to stand with you on that. It's a year of grace and glory. His grace covers by mercy. Glory covers too. He's going to meet us by desire. He's standing at the door and knocking. There's an invitation for more, but He's waiting on our invitation for more. God says there's going to be a glory along with that.

When you look at this church, you see not only a church, but a family. That family sticks together to have more people come into that family.

2011 came from heaven. Every year came from heaven because He made the world so every year did come from heaven. And if everything came from heaven, we should give it back to Him.

More people will be healed. More real churches.

The world will know who the church is. The church will stand in her place and make a stand for what is right, what is pure. We will make a difference with our prayers. Proclamation – proclaiming who He is. Prayer and prophetic. The year the church will prophesy. We will see nations turn, literally turn their eyes to Jesus this year. We will see a drastic change in the Middle East.

We need to expect the unexpected. In the past, we've dismissed things because it didn't seem possible. This year we need to expect the unexpected. We need to reverse our thinking on those things and expect what we thought was impossible. We need to think it's not only possible but it's what's going to take place.

Rumbling is a noise and a crowd – that's the harvest and salvations. It's wealth and abundance. It's company – the company of Jesus our Lord as well as each other. We know God has called us to be a team, and a strong force for Him. It means multitude and to multiply. God has told us for years that we're going to be multiplied. It's noise, it's rages, it's store and tumult. He also took me to the woman with the issue of blood – she had the issue for 12 years and then suddenly it was a miracle, it was over. He's saying that to the church, it's been 12 years of issues and it's going to be done. And it's also with the spiritual realm, anything that negates the blood of Christ, God is bringing forth the miracles in the spirit to defeat it as well.
