"MY NAME"

BY PASTOR DAWN RENE McCANN

This is my promise to you as an individual - I care about you. My name is revealed to you so that you can walk in the fullness of who I am on the earth. For you are My representation - you are those that are called by My name. If you know what My name means, you will know what you are representing to others.

Walk in the knowledge it. Walk in the ability of it. Walk in the anointing of it. For you see, as you pursue Me with passion, as you desire Me above all things, the revelation of the people that you read about -- the ones that I have relationship with, the ones that I gave revelation to about who I was -- will be yours also.

I love you the same. I'm available to you in the same way. I will give you a revelation revolution that will secure who I am on the inside of you. And you will begin to walk around knowing that the promises I have given all throughout My written word to you are alive to you right now. They are still secured to you by My name, by the investment that I have placed in My name, by Me honoring you, by bringing you into covenant with My name.

You need to call yourself by My name. Call upon My name and see if I won't show up – with dignity, with power, with ability, with all that you have need of. I am not mad at My people. I am desiring for them. I have not withheld from you. But I have given you all that I am.

Begin to take in the understanding. Begin to acknowledge Me for who I am. And you will see those facets of My personality come into place in your life. You will see the release of the things you've been asking Me for come into view, because I am the God who sees. But I not only see, I am able to meet your need. I am able to answer your cry. I am able to give you revelation on the thing that you need right now. As you begin to embrace Me for who I am, embrace all that I say I am, embrace all that My name means, embrace the fact that you are heirs, joint heirs, through My Son, you will be able to be partakers of the significance of My name.

Even now I'm beginning to pour out healing in your midst. Even now I'm beginning to answer the heart cry of those who have said, 'I want to see healing come from my hands.' Even now I have heard your cries – you have called upon My name. You've called out to Me, the Lord Your God, and I am giving you an anointing to be carriers of the healing power of the cross.

As you call on the name of My Son, Jesus, as you call upon the name of the sacrificial lamb, as you call upon the name of the One who took the stripes, so that you could be healed, so that they could be healed, you will begin to feel the revelation come into you. You will begin to have the effects of that flow through you, and you will lay hands on the sick and they SHALL recover. That ability was always in My name. And now you are a part of My family, a part of My covenant, a part of that ability. Believe it, walk in it. Look for opportunity. Apply My name – the name above all names, and see if I won't move heaven and earth to bring forth the glory.

My name will be exalted – now, in this season, in this time, in this generation, in this city, in this land. For I am the Lord God – but I am the Lord your God, I am the Lord their God. So take My name to them. Take the revelation of My name to them. Use My name and you will see that I will back My name. I have always been. I will always be.

Lord, we just thank You for that – we thank You that You have invested enough – it's hard for us to believe that You would even trust us with that name – but You chose to, and therefore, we are partakers of all that it means. We will obey You. We will go into the highways and the byways. We will access what is in that name, and we will utilize it to bring heaven to earth. We thank You for it.
