

ALL IN

2018 PROPHECY

December 31, 2017

There are many saying to Me, “Please let the next year be better than the last.” And My heart is open to your cry, but I am asking that your heart would be open to My cry.

All of the difficulties of the past, though they’ve challenged you, are stepping stones that you need, to go deep with Me so that you can see what I have put inside of you already.

You can go deep into the spirit; tap in to Me any time, any place, anywhere and find the grace and find the knowledge that you need.

You have the strength in Me to operate with wisdom that goes beyond natural wisdom and taps into the realm of understanding that comes from Me.

You can be among those who capture the attention of everyone else to bring new influence, new guidance, new awareness and a new life.

I am looking for those who are willing to be ALL IN. Those who have left the world and its ways behind so I can trust them to influence the changes that I need to happen in cities and in nations.

But who will choose to be ALL IN?

Think of those who represent this in My word. Joseph had dreams. But he had dreams that could only be accomplished by My favor, My wisdom and My involvement. Among the obstacles he had to overcome were betrayal, abandonment, and false accusation.

Yet through every hardship, he never gave up; he pressed on because he was ALL IN. He was ALL IN in believing Me. He was ALL IN in his obedience to Me. He was ALL IN in staying pure. He was ALL IN in utilizing the gifts I had given to him. And ALL IN in being a blessing to those around him. He had to be ALL IN in forgiveness and he had to be ALL IN in his relationship with Me. Because he was, he rose to a position in every situation so that he influenced an entire nation and brought favor to his own nation. It brought reconciliation to his own family. Joseph was never really all alone because I was ALL IN with him.

And then there was Daniel - filled with knowledge and wisdom that continued to be perfected as he continued to grow in revelation above every other one of his time.

He chose to be ALL IN over and over again, honoring Me and honoring those that were over him. He blessed the king in spite of the threat of death with lions and fire.

He was discipling others and raising them up with the same heart and the same mindset. They were ALL IN even in the fiery furnace, and that is why I had to join them. Honor and obedience to that degree had My full attention and My full affection. I honored them as they honored Me, and in the moment that they needed it the most, I showed up with My power, I showed up with My majesty and I showed up with the effect of Heaven in the midst of their fire.

And I will show up for you. I will show up in the middle of your fiery furnace. I will show up for you if you will sell out and be ALL IN. I’m longing for My people. I am longing for My Church that will abandon all other things for Me. That will keep their eyes and their focus fixed on Me. Then they will stay fixed and they will find the security that they've been looking for. They will find the greatness that has been deposited on the inside of them. For inside of them, they will find that I am all there. I am already in. I am already involved, I am already a part of your life. I am already a part of your future. I am already a part of the generations that follow after you.

You can't get Me any more in than what I already am. I was ALL IN in giving My son. My son was ALL IN when He gave His life on the cross, holding your sin. Taking them to death, hell and the grave, but to resurrect a brand new life to offer to you what you are living out now.

Believe Me and trust Me. Abandon yourself to Me. Not the parts of you that are easy to give. Not the conventional way of doing things. Not the religious way of doing things. Not the auto-response of seeing and just doing. No, return to Me wholeheartedly like the day you recognized My love. The day My love overtook you and filled you up to the overflow and you were brand new from the inside out. You knew it and you proclaimed it and you were excited and you saw everything differently. You can see everything differently again. Come back to your first love. Come back to what I've planned for you. Come back to being ALL IN for all of Me. And I won't fail you. I haven't forgotten you. So many who call themselves My Church have forgotten Me. They have forgotten My goodness, they have forgotten My grace. They have forgotten My word in all of their busyness.

Abraham was set apart. You are set apart. He had to go against the things of the natural. He had to step out in faith when he heard My voice. When no one else understood, he still stepped forward, knowing nothing. Having no direction in the natural, but being led by My Spirit, he followed My voice towards fulfilling the making of generations that would be My people that were blessed.

He trusted Me beyond any other because he was willing to give back to Me the very promise I had given him - his very beloved son. And when he laid him down, he trusted Me so deeply. He trusted My word to him. He believed that since I had promised, I would also deliver.

In that moment all of self inside of him was dead and only the spirit remained.

It was then that I could trust him and I knew I had a blood covenant partner. Who will be a blood covenant partner with Me? Who will be ALL IN to that degree? who won't just be satisfied receiving the promise, but will only be satisfied when they have the opportunity to offer it all back at My feet. Knowing and trusting and believing Me that what I said is true. That I will never take only to keep. I will only take to multiply. All the sands of the sea and all the stars of the sky that represented the generations came to pass because of the moment that Abraham was ALL IN.

The sons of Issachar knew the times and they knew the seasons. They could discern because they were ALL IN with Me and they knew the Spirit above the natural. They knew that even in that time the nation was in need. They knew it would have to move into accepting David as their king. They knew the political times and the political ways. They knew how to release the truth. And though they were few in number, the fewest of the tribes at the time, they had the highest degree of knowledge of what needed to shift in the political atmosphere, and what needed to change, and how things needed to align for My will to come to pass. They were believed and they were trusted because of their influence. Because they were ALL IN in hearing My voice. And ALL IN in delivering the truth—whether it was popular or not.

Who are My Issachar's today? Who will discern the time that you're living in and who will speak the truth in spite of what others may accept or reject? Thinking only of what is better for someone else, for a nation, for nations, rather than themselves. Rather than your own earthly gain. What will you gain for the Kingdom's sake? Who will you be allies with? Those that I have chosen, or those that appear, who declare themselves more fit. There are Issachar's that will release truth and will change atmospheres, the governmental realm and the political realm. Listen to their voice, or be My voice to this generation and to future generations. Who will be ALL IN in the political and governmental realm? Who will be righteous advisors? Who will wait until they hear truth from Me, before they release truth? Who will keep their hearts right to deliver My message without anger?

Where are My Jehoshaphat's? Where are the ones who will cry out in times of trouble and look to Me for the strategies, who will fast and pray and lay it all down? Who will seek My face and call others into the meeting place? Who will cry out at the altar and say, "God if you don't show up we die. But we know You'll come. We know You know how to win."

Where is My Church that is willing to cry on the floor once again, to ask Me and seek Me and find Me? And will trust in My instructions, who will rise and worship with all that they are? Who will lead the parade of the victory with a song? Who will worship Me and know that in that worship they have already won the victory? Because they are proclaiming who I am. They are proclaiming what I've done. They are proclaiming their trust in Me. They are proclaiming My greatness. They are proclaiming My goodness, that I am the Way Maker, that I am the Miracle Man. That I have gone before them and made a way. And just as they all saw in Jehoshaphat's day, that was where the victory laid - was hearts of worshippers trusting and obeying and being ALL IN, nothing left out, in agreement, in unity with one voice, worshipping their King and trusting. Advancing, not retreating.

I am looking for those I can entrust again with the heart of worship, who worship Me not just in song, not just with the instruments, but with every string of their heart they will seek Me for the sake of others. Then they will experience the assurance that no matter what enemy they face, they can move forward with a known victory.

Who are those that will be the example of entrusting all that they have to Me? There was a steward that I trusted. And I gave him more than the others. And he worked hard, but he did it for Me. He gained back double of what I had given him. And he was happy to bring it to My feet. He was happy to give Me all. He was happy to say, "Here I have won more for you." I have done this for your benefit. And oh how I love them. Oh how I loved his heart of wanting to worship in that way of coming and bringing that which I gave him as a gift and utilizing it to the fullest extent. I could trust him with more. But the one I gave a talent to, that buried it in the ground, made it useless. He wasn't even a little in. He wasn't in at all. He thought I was a taker. He thought I was unfair. He accused Me and so I took from him what had been given and gave to the faithful steward.

It is serious times with serious consequences.

Things are shifting now in the eternal realm. Times are coming where self-focus has to go away. Only eternal focus on the forefront. For if you get distracted by the things of the earth and the things of the world, you will miss the opportunity of utilizing that which I have entrusted to you, leaving it in the ground, burying it away. Utilizing it for nothing. And on that day that I come, what will you present Me with? What will you have to offer?

Come back to your first place of rejoicing when you knew Me for the very first time. Come back to the altar and repent. Come back and find Me waiting. Find Me with more than you could ever imagine. Available to give you all that you need for victory on every side. Come back to Me wholeheartedly.

And if you, My Church, would only understand it is not always easy to be ALL IN, but it is always available to you. Naaman didn't want to be ALL IN, but he got to the point where he was willing to do what was necessary to receive the promise of healing. He was healed because another dear one, his servant and mine, was ALL IN and encouraged him past his natural mind into obedience beyond what the senses were demanding. Who is willing to humble themselves and listen to a pure-hearted servant with instructions that defy the natural?

My disciples were daily in My presence but they weren't ALL IN until they individually chose to be. But each of them were affected by the other, as they chose one by one to surrender all and to recognize how much was entrusted to them.

I want you in, every bit of you, I want you in, all of you together. I want you in, flowing in the things of the Spirit. Rejoicing in the miraculous. I want you in, in the center of My will. Because I know that is what will bring you joy and fulfillment. That is what will bring the difference that the world is looking for. That is where the answers will be found. But you'll have to humble yourself. You'll have to listen to My servants. You'll have to surrender once again. You'll have to make it through your challenges. You'll have to push through your pain. You'll have to go through to the other side of the trial and you'll have to understand that tribulations are a part of life that I have overcome. I will be there with you.

I am looking to build a Church that is still going to go forward with Me.

I am looking for disciples that will be ALL IN.

I am looking for hearts that will be ALL IN.

I am looking for friends that will be ALL IN with Me. Not partly in. That is why My heart is crying out for more.

I want a bride. I want to share everything with you. I want a faithful lover.

I want My Church to be ALL IN even when you don't understand.

I want you to be ALL IN with your time with Me. When you say a prayer don't just say words. Get alone with Me and let My words become your words.

I want you ALL IN in the Spirit. Not sometimes, but all of the time.

I want to show you revelation that you've never seen before. I want to share My heart and My dreams with you.

I want to trust you as you trust Me.

I will honor you as you honor Me.

I will give to you as you give to Me.

I want you to be ALL IN in receiving. But I also want you to be ALL IN in giving.

ALL IN in humility.

ALL IN in submission.

ALL IN in love.

ALL IN in pushing past the difficulties.

ALL IN in seamless oneness.

ALL IN in speaking the truth of the Gospel.

ALL IN in heart, soul, mind and strength.

ALL IN in purity.

ALL IN in caring.

ALL IN in forgiveness.

ALL IN in using the gifts that you have.

ALL IN in unity and holiness. And then My Church will emerge. My bride will come in out of the shadows. And it will cause the miraculous to occur. The model of My real heart to others.

This is an invitation for all, for ears that will hear and hearts that will receive. My heart is longing and longing and crying and crying. My bride must be beautiful and holy and pure. Longing to be with Me with nothing held back. No reservations. Nothing that she will not give. I will give her value back. I will give her worth back. And you will experience the joys that you have been missing.

My champions of love will rise. They will cause others to become hungry for the total surrender of it all, and they will begin to see the fruit of their labor. They will be coming to Me in worship and recognizing what is happening all around them. ALL IN with their heart, withholding nothing and having no other lovers before Me. Faithful, uncompromised and ready and waiting.

ALL IN in their soul - their mind, their will, their emotions. So no demon of hell can shake them. No one can take away their gratitude.

My Church. My Church. Where are those who will live in the dreams that I have? Where are those who will be My friends? Where are My givers? Where are My leaders? Where are those who have decided to not be partakers of this world, but just stay connected to Me? Where are the ones who will carry the fire of the Spirit to the next generations? Where are the ones who are willing to give themselves to Me and live righteously? Who will lay aside judgment against others so that they can run with Me?

Where are the limitless ones that still believe they are limitless no matter what the current situation is? Who will continue to run this race with Me?

For those who will surrender all to Me, pursue all of Me, and love with all of their heart, they shall experience the spiritual times of outpouring that few have experienced.

I will open doors as much as hearts are opened to Me. You're asking for a movement to occur. And I ask you for a movement to occur. It will have to happen simultaneously for the end results to be realized.

I am calling for a return to the altar. That is where you'll hear Me. That's where you'll meet Me. That's where you'll be able to let go of all natural things because nothing will matter as much as experiencing My grace as you fall at My feet. You will receive and carry vision and I will give you provision.

Those who are willing to offer their resources to Me will find the resources from the spiritual realm.

United hearts will realize that everything they do, everything they say, everything they think will be done as unto Me! Their Lord, their Savior, their Redeemer, their Healer, their Sanctifier, their Provider, their Hope, their Guide, their Lover, their Peace, their Refuge.

Then they will have no more fear.

That is when your mind will be transformed, and your life will be all new again.

So begin again with Me. Consecrated, set apart, sharing in the heavenly call. Walk in your authority. Return to Eden with Me. I have made you in My image. I have made you in My likeness. Now take dominion and be the leaders and reign with justice alongside Me.

Because I am ALL IN, are you?
