

CONSUMED

December 31, 2013

Pastor Dawn Rene' McCann

Consumed is what you are going to be. Consumed in My presence. Consumed so that you can look and be like Me. For this will be a year like no other year. This year will be a year when My fire will fall on those who are consumed with Godly thoughts, not just good intentions.

This will be a time like no other time because this is the time when I am calling you to come near. I am calling for those who will give up their life and come by choice to My altar. And not only bring things and your possessions, but bring yourself as a living sacrifice—to crawl upon My altar and let My fire consume you—and to see what I can make of you.

You have only begun to see the things that I can do when you are looking straight at Me. For it is through the fire that you begin to see. It is through the fire that you begin to have your eyes opened into eternity. It is through the fire. It is through knowing Me at a different level. It is through that place only that you can see. When you allow Me to burn off the dross, when I separate between the wheat and the chaff. When you come and you offer yourself unconditionally. When you say I am Yours and You are mine. And I cannot let anything be between Me and you any longer.

Then I take My glory and I pour it out upon you and I release the fire. I release the fire that will consume everything that you have tried to get rid of in so many ways and found it so hard. And you thought it would never be the time of freedom for you. But this is your year. Because I will come and I will consume those things and I will make them fall away and it will no longer be debris that is tied to you. For your past will truly be over and your future is now. It is not coming, it is now.

I have looked forward into the future and I have brought it back to this timeframe. I have pulled from the future and I have pulled it into your now. I have seen your needs and I have heard your cries. I have written out upon the scroll of life. I know the timing. I have the best things in mind for you. I have been orchestrating things behind the scenes.

This is your time to make decisions. This is up to you. The way that 2014 will go is entirely up to you. For you will decide what you will declare and what you will decree. You will decide how much of you that you will give to Me. You will make the decision of how you want to burn. You will make the decision of how high your flame will be seen. You will make the decision of how deep your desire will go and how high your light will shine. You are making the decision for all of those things that are surrounding you as to how they will fall into place or not. Because this is not just My design, but My design is in response to your desire.

I can pour out My love on you more in a moment than you have ever felt in your entire lifetime, but you have to come to My altar on purpose. You have to come with the purpose of worshipping Me for who I really am, of being totally intimately acquainted with Me, of pursuing Me because you are desiring My heart and My wisdom for the purpose of helping them, of helping others.

They have to see Me in reality. The reality that they have is you. They are looking for a miracle, and the miracle is you. Haven't I already transformed your life on the day I set you free? Haven't you been taken out of darkness into light, and won't you share that? Won't you share that?

I will consume the things that take your time and distract you away from that which has eternal value. I will order your steps and I will open the path for you. I will lay down treasures along the way and you will begin to see them. You will begin to see them as I see them. You have all of the things that you have held back from Me. You have held back treasures that are hidden inside of you. They have been hidden for ages and now it is time for them to come forth: the very gifts, the very things that I have deposited into you. Heaven is putting a demand on them now. Heaven is putting a demand on them now.

When you bring those things to Me that you have held so dear and you release those treasures to Me, I will take them and I will cause the heavens to shake from the response of the heavenly host coming into the realm of the spirit to join you in your pursuit, and in your passion.

The provision will be brought for the vision.

You have to choose it. I will only consume that which is offered to Me freely. I will only consume that which is offered to Me freely. I will not beg you to come. I will invite you into My presence. I will invite you to join Me. I will invite you to be one with Me. My call is to you. But your response is free will. If you come to Me with all of your heart, if you come to Me with all of your soul, then I will give you all of My strength, and you can have all of My heart.

If you return to me with all of your heart, your soul and your strength, I will bring my glory here.

It starts with a house of prayer. For many of you have depended on other peoples' prayers to the extent that you have neglected to come even with your petitions for those that you love and lay them on the altar.

There must be a vision of prayer, the realization that prayer brings power. It has power to overturn the will of them enemy and lay the paths of righteousness down for others to walk on. You are going to have to go back...to prayer.

You are going to have to pursue the passions of my heart.

There is going to be a heavenly pursuit from those who want to be effective.

Who are no longer willing to watch for things to come to pass, but are going to hear my directives and make them come to pass.

But it will start because you return to a place of prayer. You return to a place of crying out to Me in intimacy. You will not be able to go through your day without first reaching Me, without first hearing My voice, without being able to walk through this day as My child. It is necessary for you to know who I am and to be with Me and to let Me shine—to you first and then through you next.

I already know everything that concerns you. I know everything about your life. I have been there with you. I know the things you are about to ask of Me before you even ask. I have been waiting for you to come, to lay down on the altar and let Me do the work. If you will let Me and give Me permission and trust Me and trust Me to this place of allowing Me the freedom to consume the things that you try so hard to orchestrate your own way, I will turn it around.

I am still divinely intervening on your behalf. Oh the devil will paint a picture of what you lose instead of what you gain by being in My consuming fire. He will tell you that people will reject your intensity. But he is a liar. People are drawn to and run to the fire. They will run to My burning ones. Because I am building up those who are on My altar and I am giving them the abilities to far outrun the enemy and to see past all of his tactics and destroy them before they hit.

I am building an army of those who are coming to my altar on purpose to find my purposes and to carry them out. On earth as it is in heaven.

My fire will produce power. And just as natural fire produces energy, just as the natural foreshadows that which is of the heavenly realm, My fire will produce an energy. It will bring forth that which you never thought you could have, that which you have had in your heart.

Be careful what you say you desire of Me, for as you come and you lay your things down on the altar, I will consume them, and then I will ask for YOU.

Who are the people that will purposely walk to the altar and climb upon it in their own strength to find My strength? To find the confidence to lay down their life as I pick it up and transform it into one that walks above the fray as they begin to understand my ways.

There is so much more capacity than you have realized. So much more ability you have received than you have acknowledged.

You have the ability to receive My heart, My knowledge, My infusions that will cause you to be undone in My presence, to transform you into the place of oneness with Me.

When Moses came to Me, I showed up as a fire. But when he chose to build that tent of meeting, when he came to Me of his own accord, when he came to the mountain, when he climbed all the way up and he became one with Me, the fire was seen and the fire was heard and there was thundering, and the people could see, but Moses was no longer afraid. For he was saved by My glory. He was filled with My light. He was no longer a shadow, but he was a shining one, he was one that burned. He was one that glowed. No one could deny that he had been with Me.

He proved that the intimacy could be had; he proved that I would not withhold My glory. I will not withhold My glory from you. I will not withhold My power from you; I will not withhold My light, My life, My wisdom, My knowledge or My abilities.

All I want is all of you. I want all of you. And I want ALL of you. For you see there has to be a change in the way that you are orchestrating your life. It can no longer be that thing where you are concerned about those things that are in your own circle of life. But I am the Way, and I am the Truth and I am the Life.

I am asking you to show your light and to be the life to other people and to include and expand your borders and expand your realm of influence, to include those who are on My heart. That means change. It means opening up your heart and your life, even being transparent to others. Sharing in your good times and your bad. Sharing in your victories and your failures. But sharing, and giving and being. Reaching and loving and caring and letting them see the real Me. The real Me.

You are going to see the expansion of My Kingdom. You will begin to see true Kingdom order and you will begin to see it replicate itself upon the earth. For My Kingdom is coming as you have been praying. My will will be done as you begin to storm heaven's gates. My will is coming to pass and My will is coming into divine perspective and divine order and you are going to be able to walk in divine kingdom principles. You are going to be able to set down foundations for other people to walk on. You are going to see yourself in a kingly outfit. You are going to have an ability to honor Me which will give you favor, which will reproduce itself in other people.

The fire is going to change the components of your thoughts, the components of your actions and you're going to become aware of My determination to show you the place you fulfill even on this earth. I have already seen it. I have been into your future places, I have stepped there. And I have made the way clear.

You are part of something bigger. But it will take dedication and determination. It will take you being determined to stay on the course, being a part of the vision of what I have prepared for you, being active in serving one another with a heart of love and not a heart of competition. And not a heart of striving. And not a heart of judgment. And not a heart of second guessing. But a full-fledged, fully-surrendered heart, serving with love and honoring Me by honoring the vision that I have cast before you.

Don't you know that My Spirit is upon you to preach good news? Don't you understand that you are to heal the hearts are now broken? Don't you know that I have given you power to loose those that are in bondage, even in a moment of time?

My Spirit is upon you to reach to those who are lost and undone and bring them to the fire where they can be changed, where they can find their life and their real identity. They will no longer operate under an orphan spirit, but the spirit of adoption is their answer.

And they will find it at the altar. They will find it. This is not a time for you to draw back but a time to draw near. This is a time where you must not allow fear to draw you back. You must not fear what the fire will feel like or what the fire will consume.

You must run to Me. You must let My fire consume you and then the fire will separate. It will cause you to change your thinking. When you think thoughts that go against who I am, you will hear, "these thoughts were not authorized by Me" and you will lay those thoughts down again on the altar and allow my fire to consume them.

It will cause you to become accustomed to My presence. You will become accustomed to My voice, you will become accustomed to how to move with Me and how to talk with Me and how to represent Me properly.

As you do, the joy will rise and there will be a new fire in your step and there will be a new excitement about the race that you are in. And you will run it with gladness. For I am restoring those who have had disappointments and I am healing those who are broken, and I am bringing you to wholeness so that you can be the perfect picture of what happens when you run to Me.

Many are under stress and experiencing battles that are not understood, but God will reveal things that you need to know, as you peer through the flames into the open heavens that will be released in that place of surrender.

It is a place of intimacy.

For the fire in your eyes will begin to burn and you will begin to see through things that look hopeless. You will no longer be able to add anything to the curse, but you will go and do something that will cause the curse to be undone and the blessing to begin to occur. You will bring things into divine order and begin to speak things out and it will begin to shift, because I am still speaking and I am still speaking to the darkness and I am still bringing light. I am still speaking to chaos and I am causing it to come back into divine place again.

You will open your mouth and speak things with Me and put things back into proper place. Because I have given you authority, and as you realize your proper position of authority, order will align itself once again. I have authorized My church and I have authorized My own. You will become more and more aware of the ability in your life and you will see the Kingdom of God in operation in your life. You will not give in to the darkness that tries to invade My presence and tries to break our intimacy any longer.

There are those that have been blinded but I am going to open their eyes. They will say "Surely the Lord is in this place and I did not know it." But this is My house, this is the house of God, and it is one of My glorious gates into heaven.

The house of God is defined by the presence of God being there. This church is to be presence driven. No longer distracted, but attracted to the Voice of the Lord. This is to be an open house ... a gateway of heaven.

Jesus was My fulfillment ... and those who are one with Him are the dwelling places of God on planet earth.

You are not a sinner with a "Band-Aid". You are My church; you are fashioned to live with heaven being a part of your lives.

The fire will consume and what will be left is the smoke, proving that that which was offered before Me has been transformed into another state.

Where there is love, there are sparks that turn into flames of fire.

It will be the time where our hearts will be so united that you will not be able to deny Me in any area of your life.

Those who are not willing to come to the altar will not find the purity; they will not enjoy the journey. They will not know the joy of this passionate relationship I am offering.

There needs to be devotion. There needs to be trust. There needs to be an adjoining with Me and My ways. And it is available to all who will come.

There is a passion that is being released on the earth. Those who have ears to hear are hearing Me. Those whose hearts have become cold are beginning to become ablaze again. It starts with a spark, but then it increases into a fire and it is beginning to burn. The fire is beginning to have flames and I am beginning to fan it by the wind of My Spirit. There is going to be an explosion. Won't you be a part? Won't you be a part?

My church is everywhere. My church is in people of all different languages and all different places, and they are feeling the call. They are getting ready to come. They are beginning to run towards the mercy seat. They are beginning to run towards My glory, they are beginning to run towards My altar and they are beginning to sense what the fire will bring.

They are beginning to have an expectancy that they have not had before. They are beginning to cry out, "More God! More of Your glory! I have to have more of You! Strengthen me and I will do Your will! Help me and I will help them! Give to me and I will give to them. I will take Your vision and I will speak Your vision and I will be Your vision and Your answer on this earth!"

And I am saying, "Yes! Yes! Come. Come. And let My fire consume you. Come and be a part of My heart. Come and experience that which you have only heard of, which you have only read of, which you have only hoped you could experience, for now it shall be reality."

I am offering you a relationship with love itself. Do you want to love Me more? Do you want to pursue Me? Do you really want to know Me? Do you want to be ignited and stay on fire and have your hearts burn ablaze? Do you want to burn for Me, or with Me? Do you want to burn for Me, or with Me? Then come to My altar.

Nothing will be left of your past, only your future. And you will be My vehicles for proclamation. And you will reach into realms previously not experienced by you. For the law of the spirit is greater than the law of the natural. You will come and you will receive all that you need.

If you are weary, still come. If you are down-trodden, then join those who are already running and are already ablaze. Get caught up in what they are caught up in and they will reach out and grab you by the hand and they will help you into the place of My presence. For I always have a people that won't give up. I always have those who are consistently righteous. I always have those who have predetermined that they'll never stop loving Me. So find them and be with them and join them, and then grab somebody and bring them into that circle of love, that circle of flame, and that circle of fire.

Stand beside and behind those that I have set ablaze and that carry the vision and feel the explosive surge as the presence of my glory in the air becomes combustible.

Cry out for me to fan the flames of your heart and consume you.

Who do you live for? Me or you?

Spirit or soul? Eternity or temporal things?

This is time for ... Reformation ... Restoration ...
Realization

Increase ... Decrease

Expansion of Kingdom.

Igniting individuals to burn away sickness disease, and distress. Expeditions will be dropped in your hearts to be planned for My purposes.

Times of efficiency increased.

There is going to be a reformation. The reformation comes when you come with Me. The restoration will come with the reformation ... restoring of things that have been lost ... things that will come in an instant of time ... things that you have prayed for and believed for.

I am the God that does not care about time. I can collapse it. I can cause it to come right into your arena whenever I see you burning for Me. For I am looking at hearts and I am looking at passion. I am looking for those who will not stop loving Me, who will not hesitate to obey Me, but are so willing to throw their preferences aside, to align with the obedience of My heartbeat. You are going to be absorbed in My thoughts and in My actions.

I am going to bring glory into your space and into your place. Believe Me for increase, increase in every way. As you began to write down your goals, My heart was rejoicing. For your goals were aligning with Mine and I knew that we could make a difference. I knew that we could change the world. For that reason I came. For that reason I came. To deliver those from darkness and bring them into My light. So come, come and be consumed by Me.

Don't you know that Mine is a Kingdom that cannot be shaken? The shaking that is going on is for you. The shaking that is going on is going to produce the fire that is necessary to get you free. But My Kingdom, My Kingdom cannot be shaken. Satan has tried. He has tried and he has lost. He has lost and you are entering into a Kingdom that cannot be shaken.

But understand that your God, your God is a consuming fire. Your God is a consuming fire. And if you dare to come with Me, if you dare to lay those things down on My altar, I will dare to come to you and I will release to you that which is so intense, you will cry out and say, "I don't know if I can take any more."

But I will give you more, and I will give you more, and I will give you more until you are one with Me. There will be nothing impossible for you, because you will no longer be operating out of the soul, but out of the spirit. You will no longer be operating in the things that are of this world. But you will be operating of the things that you have experienced with Me in the Heavens. You will begin to see what can be and you will bring it to pass.

Imagine the excitement, imagine the testimonies, and imagine the lives that will be changed. And dream with Me for that. Nothing will stop what My Spirit is doing now, for I have already set the fires going. I have already caused the force to burn. I have already set Mine ablaze. You will see it here and there and everywhere. The noise will begin to be heard. The shouts will begin to be released.

There will be an energy and a synergy that will come because My people are hearing in a different way and they are willing in a different way. They are responding in a different way. So come. Come. And let Me be all I want to be. Let Me be all that I promised I would be. Let Me be all that I said I would be in your life. All of the things that you should have done will become easily restored. And you will be able to enjoy that which I am offering you.

As we are entering this New Year, God does give us signs and designs that are from His very heart. What I was sharing last night with Pastor Dawn, is out of Psalms 114. It says “when”, and there is a “when” time, a set time that Father has, His time that comes. That Israel is to be delivered, to come up out of Egypt. This is a set time for Israel and you are Israel, the church, the true seed of the living God. Israel was His son. He chose to come up out of Egypt with a purpose. We sang it tonight, it was to worship God. Israel was in bondage or slavery for 400 years, but there came a time when God had raised up a deliverer named Moses, who was trained, who was seasoned, who was positioned with a purpose: to bring His people out. “Let my people go so that they will come and worship Me.”

In this chapter, I know it’s very significant for all of us here – because God has a purpose, and that purpose is that we would know the ABC’s of who we are. We need to know that we are the Israel of God. And Israel is the one that is “A” - Anointed with authority. I want to impart to you tonight an anointing for authority, of your Kingdom purpose now. And “B” – is blessing. You are blessed to be a blessing. Say it with me – “I am blessed to be a blessing. I am blessed to be a blessing.”

“C” is covenant. Covenant. I am covenant. Remember the covenant – I am the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. You and I are covenant people. Covenant means that God almighty is committed to His purpose in a people because of the blood of the Lamb that causes deliverance to come. We are a covenant people.

When the time came for Israel, the sons of the living God, to come forth to worship, there was a praise in their lips because Judah was His sanctuary, meaning God inhabit the praises of Judah. Israel was His dominion, meaning Israel, the son knew who they were because they knew whose they were.

So what happens at the end of Psalms 114? Everything turned, everything changed. And my heart tonight was changed. There was a supernatural miraculous happening that happened. The rock was turned into a river. The flint was turned into a refreshing flow. Our hearts tonight were touched. There was in part of our heart, a heart of stone, and God, by your anointed, apostolic pastor, brought forth rain to cause a change to come to our hearts.

This is a year for change. This is a year for a turn-around because we have a supernatural deliverer who is the God of the turnaround, who changes Israel, and Israel is very key. Because Israel was the name that was given by God that was a name change. Another change. We’ve all been Jacob – the old, we’ve all had the identity of the old man. Had. It’s a new year, it’s a new day. That’s just another indication of the change.

Our God is a supernatural, miraculous God of the turnaround, who changes Jacob because he had a divine encounter with the presence, with the fire of God. So there was a name change, just like what He’s doing in our hearts now, there’s a change from the inside out, from Jacob to Israel. A change. And it’s all about His presence because in His presence, the hills melt like wax. And what makes us different in 2014 is the presence of the Almighty God. The presence of the fire. The presence of the glory that we are one with because of His goodness and His grace.

I am going to restore your sense of wonder for Me and for the things of God in your life. The things that have been hard have worn on you and hardened your heart, but I am taking that film off you, lifting you out of it and lifting it out of you. And I am restoring the wonder of Me. I am going to cause you to see things in a new way and see things that you've never seen before and you will "wonder" after Me again.

You'll see My rain falling, and I'll let you see with new eyes things that were hidden and you will realize that you can see the actual streaks of My rain. It will be as if you have a new pair of glasses and you can see details that you never saw before, but now they are revealed to you, and you will have a new sense of amazement and wonder.

Also, here is something else that the Lord gave Letha and me in prayer:

Your steps are ordered by God. You are "an original" loosed by God to His Body for this time. You are established and equipped by God and every need is already provided for. You will have that confidence and assurance from God, just like Joyce Meyer, and you will realize that you are an example to others and that others are drawing from you. You'll see how your Church has equipped and trained you. You'll see that the "Greater Exploits" are here. The traps of the enemy have been exposed and the victory has already been claimed.

You are under grace and the blessings of Abraham are released. You are the head and not the tail. You stand on the Word and you have won by the Blood of the Lamb and the testimony of Jesus. You will see and hear God divinely operating in impossible-looking situations and bring His best in your life. You will walk in divine authority, understanding faith and grace and mercy, depending on God as your Source. The path has already been laid out for 2014 and we are going places and going after souls!

John Hamilton

2014!! What I heard Him saying is that this is the year of "THE COMING TO PASS". The things that you have been believing for will begin to come to pass this year. The things that you have been crying and interceding for over the years will begin to come to pass this year!

Abundance will come to pass, renewal and restoration will come to pass, your dreams and visions will begin to come to pass, healing, deliverance, and provision will come to pass, new jobs, new songs, witty inventions, breakthroughs will come to pass. You will begin to see miracle after miracle, sign after sign, and wonder after wonder. This is the year of My favor, says the Lord!
